

JACKSONVILLE'S NAMES FROM THE PAST

There are many places in Jacksonville that are named for people or places associated with the Indians and the French of the 1560s. See if you can match the present day place with the name from the past by drawing a line between the two! Names from the past may match up with more than one present day place. (Remember: some of the names used today are based on names from the past and may not appear exactly the same)

PAST	PRESENT
Huguenot	name of the St. Johns River ferry boat
Fort de la Caroline	high school near downtown
Jean Ribault	the only national park in Jacksonville
Alimacani	elementary school
River of May	section of Jacksonville near the beach
Timucuan	road in Jacksonville country club on the west side of Jacksonville middle school or jr. high school city park on the north side of the St. Johns River

On the back of this sheet, draw and label one of these places with its past and present name